EXPENSE ACCOUNT OF MRS. EDSON.

From the office of the State Controller at Sacramento, we have secured the following information relative to per diem and expense collected by the woman who has ruled that working girls must live on $15 per week, as member of the Industrial Welfare Commission, for the eight months, commencing July 1, 1921, and ending February 28, 1922:

Month Year	Warrant No.	Total Amount	Per Diem	Expense
July 1921	3459	$392.07	$250.00	$142.07
Aug. 1921	5582	300.00	270.00	30.00
Sept. 1921	7883	367.05	260.00	107.05*
Oct. 1921	11303	322.40	260.00	62.40
Nov. 1921	13623	381.00	260.00	121.00
Dec. 1921	18005	576.30†	270.00	306.30
Jan. 1922	18347	341.00	250.00	91.00
Feb. 1922	21906	346.08	240.00	106.08

Totals $3025.90 $2060.00 $965.90

*Includes auto tires, $27.05.

†The months of Dec., 1921, Jan. and Feb., 1922, were spent by Mrs. Edson at the Disarmament Conference at Washington, D. C. While traveling she charged $3 a day for meals; and in Washington she charged $4 per day for meals and $5 per day for room.

On June 16, 1921, Mrs. Edson filed claim for railroad fare, hotel expenses, meals and per diem for five days, for a trip to Yosemite Valley, to attend the Federation of Women's Club meeting. Her bill was $108.95, but she was allowed $107.45.

Her minimum charge against the state for meals is never less than $3 a day, and for room

$4 a day. Having the ability to figure that any working girl can live on 90 cents a day, it is really marvelous with what skill she can pile up expense and per diem for herself.

California manufacturers, of a certain type, never tire of telling their women workers about the "wonderful commission" that is looking out for their welfare. Wonder if they also would think it so awfully wonderful if the working women took a leaf out of Mrs. Edson's diary and charged expenses on top of their little per diems? Of course, their song would be different.

Isn't law a wonderful thing How easy some people get by, and how others get into a fix every time.

And the pity of it is that such things are so common that not one of us can see the humor of it. Rightly considered, Mrs. Edson should be placed in the niche of California history with that Austrian woman who became queen of France, and who innocently suggested, when the people of Paris complained of not having any bread: "Then why don't they eat cake."

WAITERS MAKE DONATION.

The Waiters' Union of San Francisco has donated $75 to the timber workers of California. Washington and Oregon, who are on strike against a reduction in wages and the lengthening of their hours of labor.

The Waiters' Union will remove to its new headquarters, 1256 Market street, on or about May 15.

FRIDAY, MAY 5, 1922.

Daily the radical shouters for free speech unconsciously demonstrate that they are for free speech for themselves alone. They are not, however, observing enough to see that their actions speak louder than their words. As a consequence they persistently demonstrate in practice that their words are nothing but hypocritical attempts to deceive. Last Friday night about fifteen or twenty red visitors to the Labor Council meeting got up from their seats and marched out of the hall as President David P. Barrows of the University of California started to speak. The thing was very evidently the result of a previous agreement among them to show disrespect for the head of that great public institution of learning solely because his beliefs and policies are not in harmony with their peculiar brand of philosophy. The conduct of these visitors was about the shallowest, silliest and most contemptible among the many instances in which they have abused the courtesy of the Council in permitting them to be present at the regular weekly meetings

Last week a member of a building trades union in this city was approached by one of those radical world-savers who is attempting to destroy the legitimate building trades organizations through promoting the so-called "Rank and File Federation of Workers." The radical said: "Don't you know that you are being deceived by the officers of your union solely for the purpose of keeping their jobs and getting a living off of your earnings." The trade unionist replied: "No. I don't know that, and I am sure that you do not know it either, because it is not true, though the boss, who wants to run a non-union job, told me the same thing only a few days ago. I have been in the labor movement for twenty-five years and I have paid pretty close attention to the work of officers and the union itself and I know that on the whole the officers are a pretty square lot, in spite of the fact that in isolated instances one may discover a grafter here and there. But I believe you are a grafter, and I know you are a liar. I also suspect that you are a detective in the employ of the enemies of the workers and doing their dirty work for pay. And I consider such animals the foulest creatures God allows to roam the earth. Never come near me again if you have any regard for your physical comfort." The trade unionist quoted knew what he was talking about, and we mention it to call attention to the harmony of conduct between the radical and the union-smashing employer. Their conduct is similar and their desires and hopes are alike always, for their aim is to destroy the organizations of the workers.

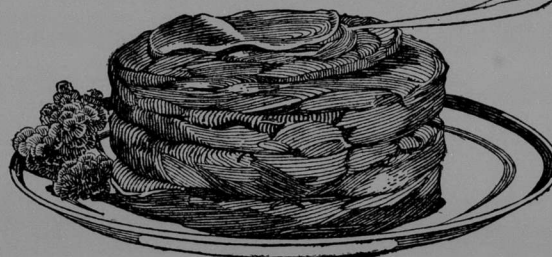

EMPLOYMENT AGENCY CONFERENCE.

Next Wednesday morning a conference called by the Vigilant Committee, which has made an extensive investigation of the practices of fee-charging employment agencies, is to convene in this city, with the object in view of mapping out plans calculated to bring an end to the many abuses that have grown up with the development of the business. The abuses surrounding the conduct of employment agencies which charge fees for directing applicants to positions have been discovered to be both numerous and vicious, and the committee determined to call a conference of the many organizations in San Francisco interested in humanitarian affairs in order to get the best possible advice as to what should be done to correct the prevalent evils. In spite of the fact that the State of California conducts free employment agencies, the pay agencies collected from the workers of this State last year more than a million dollars in fees for furnishing information as to possibilities of employment to those in search of positions. The fees charged in many cases are disgracefully high and the individual in search of employment is compelled to meet the demand of the agency or forfeit the opportunity for a position, yet the State agencies could handle the entire field if employers would only send their orders to them. Why employers will send orders to fee-collecting agencies rather than to the free bureaus operated by the State is hard to understand. The principle reason assigned by those consulted concerning the matter has been that they were unaware of the existence of the free agencies. This fact is doubtless due to the solicitation and publicity that the fee-charging agencies are enabled to carry one out of the money collected in fees from the workers. The State agencies have never had appropriations sufficient to enable them to effectively compete with the private institutions in the matter of solicitation and advertising and it would seem that one way of bringing about a change in this state of affairs would be for the people to see to it that the Legislature furnish adequate funds for the effective and proper conduct of the public agencies now in existence as well as to provide for the opening of offices in a number of other sections of the State which have heretofore been neglected in this regard. It is the height of foolishness to operate agencies without money enough to enable them to do the work they are intended to do. Economy of this brand surely is of the "penny wise, pound foolish" variety, and in spite of the present disposition to cut down expenditures of all kinds, here is an instance where larger appropriations would lead to real economy so far as the people of the State of California are concerned, and a dollar saved to the people through the operations of the free employment agencies is a dollar added to the actual wealth of the State, because it means the putting of a dollar into the pocket of the man who renders real service and taking it away from one who has really been collecting it without giving anything of substantial character in return. The conference has a big job before it, and it is to be hoped that it will go at the problem in intelligent fashion and stay with it until a practical solution has been found and placed in active operation.

Apparently the National Women's Party will not be able to put through the silly constitutional amendment which would destroy the work of half a century by the labor movement to establish sane and safe conditions for women in the world of industry. Large gatherings of women throughout the country during the past few months have consistently refused to approve the scheme.

It is my pleasure to report that through the activities of the trade union movement and their sympathizers most vicious legislation proposed in a number of states has been defeated. A compulsory labor bill was presented to the New York Legislature. The State Federation of Labor notified all unions in that state, and on March 1 several hundred representatives went to Albany to enter protest. I had the privilege of making extensive arguments against the bill and this species of legislation. Mr. Matthew Woll, Vice-President of the American Federation of Labor, pointed out the unconstitutional phases of the bill. The protests and arguments entered proved effective and the bill was killed in committee. Eleven other bills detrimental to labor were also defeated during the session of the legislature.

Two bills introduced in the Rhode Island Legislature, to which attention was called in the March circular, were killed in committee. They provided for the compulsory incorporation of trade unions, forbade strikes, and provided for compulsory labor.

The two most un-American bills presented in the Missouri Legislature also met defeat because of the opposition of labor. One prohibited strikes and the other provided that a district attorney could file a complaint before a justice of the peace, who could constitute himself a "grand jury." Any one who testified before this "grand jury" and informed others of what he had said could be fined $200.

The "equal rights" bill in the Virginia Legislature, ostensibly to aid women but in reality to repeal all protective laws for women in industry, was also defeated in committee through the efforts of the American Federation of Labor. The same bill also failed of passage in New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, South Carolina, Mississippi and Kentucky.

In Louisiana, through the efforts of the State Federation of Labor, a provision was placed in the new constitution providing that the legislature should never enact any laws fixing the wages or salaries of wage earners—women and children excepted.

TYPOGRAPHICAL TOPICS

The remains of George H. Godfrey of No. 21, who succumbed to an attack of lobar pneumonia in this city April 25th following an operation for injuries received when he was assaulted by hold-up men three weeks ago, were expressed to Tacoma, the home of his daughter, Miss Louise Godfrey, today.

The next monthly meeting of the Label Committee will be held Monday, May 8th, at 8 o'clock p. m., at union headquarters.

The following notice has been posted in the various mechanical departments of Hancock Bros., who do a general printing business, but whose specialty is ticket printing:

"To show our appreciation of the co-operative spirit of our people, from now on each employee will receive a full week's vacation with full pay. So that this may not affect any department by a number being absent at the same time, we are asking that each department hold a meeting to decide the vacation period of each individual."

The notice is signed by J. H. Hancock and Carroll E. Fisk, both of whom declare the spirit of co-operation is beneficial to employer as well as employee. The declaration may be accepted as a fact, for co-operation in Hancock Bros.' plant has passed the experimental stage.

The stereotypers in New York have emerged victorious from a siege of arbitration. They maintain their old scale of $59 per week for 44 hours.

News of the death of William J. ("Wild Bill") Hanhart in Mesa, Ariz., has reached the city. He passed away on Easter Sunday. Hanhart held a situation on the Chronicle years ago.

"Printing Inks and Their Composition," the subject of an address by Harry T. Watson, Pacific Coast manager of the George H. Morrill Company, at the May meeting of the San Francisco Bay Cities Club of Printing House Craftsmen, was more than interesting. It was instructing even to old-time printers, as well as pressmen. To hear Mr. Watson talk of pigments—animal, vegetable and mineral—and oils (animal, vegetable and mineral), and about carbon black made from the residuum of gas and cochineal bugs, bone-black, ivory black, etc., was a lesson in natural history, chemistry, manufacture and history, apart from the value of his talk to the printing industry.

The committee in charge of this year's annual grand ball of the Union Printers Mutual Aid Society has been busy during the last week in sending out letters to all the unions affiliated with both the Labor Council and the Building Trades Council, notifying them of the coming event and inviting them to join in the festivities.

Preparations for the ball are well under way, and, judging from the success already met, the committee feels that this year's affair will surpass any previous social event in the history of the society. Tickets are now on sale, and can be obtained from any of the members or at the union's headquarters from Secretary Michelson.

Jesse Newman, Chronicle proofreader, who has been a patient at Franklin Hospital for some time and where he underwent a surgical operation for an organic ailment a week ago last Monday, passed away at 11:55 o'clock p. m. Wednesday, May 3. Arrangements for Mr. Newman's funeral are in charge of the Masonic fraternity, but are not available for publication in this issue.

CRACKER BAKERS.

The local Cracker Bakers' Union has donated $20 to the timber workers on strike in California, Oregon and Washington against a reduction in wages and the lengthening of their hours of labor. The union is also assisting to finance the entertainment and ball to be given by the San Francisco Label Section in the auditorium of the Label Temple Saturday night, May 27.

STEREOTYPERS AND ELECTROTYPERS.

At a meeting of Stereotypers and Electrotypers' Union No. 29, held at the Labor Temple on April 9th, the following officers were elected: Fred W. Wilson, president; W. J. Flynn, vice-president; Edward Lyons, financial secretary; H. J. Bean, recording secretary; Stereotypers' executive board, Fred Ewald, Louis Martinez, McArthur Johnston and H. J. Bean; Electrotypers' executive board, L. Schultz, L. Gorman, W. J. Flynn, J. Jahnoltz; board of trustees, F. L. Colton (chairman), W. J. Flynn, W. J. Patton. Fred Ewald, who represented the union at the Toronto convention last year, was elected to represent the union as delegate at the I. S. & E. U. convention at Cincinnati, Ohio, in July.

At the last meeting of the organization the scale committee was instructed to demand arbitration of the wage scale and working conditions. F. T. Wilson and D. J. McElhanon were elected as the union members of the board of arbitration. The publishers' representatives on the board are W. H. B. Fowler and J. A. Callahan, with J. L. Adler to take Mr. Callahan's place in the latter's absence. The publishers' case will be presented by H. L. Norton, while Fred Ewald will act as counsel for the union.

Judge M. T. Dooling, of the United States District Court, has been selected as the impartial member of the board of arbitration, and has set May 5 as the date for the opening of the hearing. The proceedings will commence at 10:30 a. m. and will be held in the Judge's court room in the Post Office Building.

PETITIONS WANTED.

Frank R. Buckalew, secretary of the Near East Relief, 333 Mills Building, urgently requests that the petitions distributed by him among the delegates at a recent meeting of the Labor Council be signed and returned to him as quickly as possible.

REJECT ONE BIG UNION.

The one big union plan was overwhelmingly rejected by the convention of the American Federation of Labor Railway Employees' Department recently held in Chicago.

UNIONS AID WOMEN.

The trade union movement has done much toward standardizing conditions of work for women, says the New York State Department of Labor in its special bulletin on "Women Who Work."

DEATHS.

The following members of San Francisco unions died during the past week: George W. Mack of the machinists, Joseph F. Tyrell of the Painters, Joseph Wolf of the coopers, Frank Bracamonte of the musicians, Henry W. Gefken of the electrical workers.

CULINARY WORKERS.

The local joint executive board of the culinary crafts is arranging to give an entertainment and ball in California Hall on May 20. Practically all of the culinary workers' unions report a steady growth in membership, with the great majority of hotels, cafes, restaurants and cafeterias operating under union shop conditions.

CASEY GOES EAST.

Michael Casey of the Brotherhood of Teamsters left Thursday for Washington, D. C., to attend a conference of International Union officers, after which he will visit a number of Eastern cities in the interest of his organization previous to the American Federation of Labor Convention in Cincinnati. He will be gone about three months.

HUGE WIRE PROFITS.

The Western Union Telegraph Company made a clear profit last year of $9,633,808.

The National Women's Trade Union League has issued a convention call to its members, affiliated leagues and committees, and all affiliated trade unions, State and central labor bodies, the convention to be held in Waukegan, Illinois, June 5 to 10, 1922.
